FATHER OF STOLEN BOY TORTURED BY DEATH THREATS

HORACE MARVIN.
Boy for whom whole nation is searching, missing from Delaware home for three weeks.

Secret Service Men Set to Work to Run Down Mailers of Threatening Letters to Dr. Marvin—Anonymous Demand of $21,000 for Boy's Return.

DOVER, Del., March 22.—The resources of the United States Government are now employed in the search for little four-year-old Horace Marvin, the son of Dr. Horace N. Marvin of Kirts Hammock, near this city.

Today, under the personal orders of President Roosevelt, the Secret Service Bureau, with its trained lieutenants, took charge of the work of hunting to earth the kidnappers of little "Chubby" Marvin and the restoration of the pretty baby to his father.

NAME PRICE IN DEATH LETTER. New York and Philadelphia, where he had been making a personal investigation of the disappearance of the boy, Dr. Marvin has nothing now on which to pin the blame that says there being followed will lead to the finding of his boy.

PLANS RIGID SEARCH. "Horace is just a pretty baby boy," continued the father as his eyes filled with tears. "Most people do not seem to realize this. Outside of Bay Meadows I am run down by Detective Murphy. I heard from him that he had found a small child and woman, with a little child from South Carolina, N. Y., through New York City and at New Brunswick, N. J. Murphy is now at work between Mechanicville and New York City.

NATIONAL TEAM WAS TOO SORE FOR HARD WORK, BUT CONTINUING WATER CURE, THEY GET RID OF STIFFNESS

Staff Correspondent of the Boston American.

From now on there will be exhibition games with minor league teams until the Chicks open the league season in Philadelphia. All hands are praying that the weather North will be getting mild, for all have the fear that cold weather will stiffen up their salary wings. However that may be, the team leaves here in bang-up shape, and it will take a good club to beat them.

The news that Grant was in the market for a trade of the players, who did not dream that the differences between the management had reached an acute stage. All regret is not taken a more liberal view of the situation, as they will lie has been with the club ever since the American League

The owner of the ship is watching the work of his men all the time. The old hands, of course, need no watching, but the kids require it. Returning from the boat, the captain said that the ship was in good luck. The weather was fine, they ride back to the hotel in a regular sweat suit. Young Kron took the temperature inside the car was a trifle too high to suit him, so he took a sweater and a blanket.

Professor Grier, the trainer, spun him and told him to get inside. Kron would not get in, he said, "I don't want to get in." Grier said, "You can get in if you want to, but if you don't, you can get out." Kron, who can ride outside if you want to, but if you don't want to, you can get out. THE "LEMON SPORTS."
But these lemon sports are the limit. There's only a few dudes in this country but London and the big English towns are full of "toffs."
